COURT NEWS

A motion for a new trial in the case of the State of Ohio against John Ormiston, has been filed by attorneys Quigley and Johnson, alleging error in the second trial of Ormiston, in which he was convicted of having broken open the safe in the store of John Amicon Brothers and company.

In the motion seven separate instances of error are pointed out.

SEITZ TRIAL A WARM ONE

Attorneys Clash Over the Evidence

DEFENSE WINS BIG POINT

State Held to Proving First Offense.

Defense Fails to Secure Acquittal Because Seal of Mayor is on Neither Affidavit nor Warrant. Mayor Seitz Reserves His Decision Until Later Date.

One of the warmest "bootlegging" cases that has come up for hearing in the court of Mayor Seitz for some time was that of John Seitz, yesterday afternoon. Squabbles between attorneys made the case interesting.

When Seitz was arrested the case appeared to be a simple one indeed and it was generally conceded that Seitz would be convicted of a second offense. When the trial was commenced, however, things took a rather different turn and without the defendant going on the stand or introducing any evidence, his attorneys fought a hard battle and one that they believe will acquit him.

Seitz was represented by Attorneys Eymon and Thompson while Attorney John H. Clark and City Solicitor Elmer T. Boyd appeared for the state. As soon as the case was under way, Attorney Thompson introduced motion to dismiss the case for the reason that the affidavit and warrant did not have the official seal of the mayor as required by law. The motion was submitted without argument and was overruled by his honor.

The state introduced the testimony of Chief Klimefelter, Captain Bond and Officer Hostetter. They claimed to have seen Seitz sell a bottle of beer to Doc Harshberger. The officers peered through the windows of the Seitz kitchen and watched the sale, they said. Seitz's arrest followed.

Here attorneys for the defense stepped in and prevented the witnesses for the prosecution from telling all they knew of the affair. They were held to answers of questions by counsel and as a result the full story of what they knew did not reach the court.

The prosecution called former mayor Louis Scherff to the stand for the purpose of proving that Seitz was previously convicted for selling liquor in dry territory. Counsel for the defendant objected maintaining that the affidavit was improperly drawn and while it alleged a second offense it failed to allege conviction on the first offense. Mayor Seitz ruled in favor of the defendant, thus limiting the state to proving Seitz guilty of a first offense. The ruling was not made until after a lengthy argument had been made by both sides.

At the conclusion of the state's testimony, the defense filed a motion to dismiss on the grounds that the affidavit charged the defendant with keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold while counsel had been attempting to prove that the accused was guilty of selling liquor. Another motion to dismiss was filed on grounds similar to the first motion at the beginning of the case. Mayor Seitz overruled both. Counsel claims either of these grounds will be sufficient to secure a reversal in the higher courts in case of the defendant's conviction.

When counsel concluded their arguments to the court, adjournment was taken shortly after five o'clock.

One of the reasons for a particularly hard fight being made in this case was the rivalry between John H. Clark and the special counsel for the dry element, and Attorneys Eymon and Thompson, who until recently were employed by the drys, but who secured a settlement of their account by threat of a law suit against the organization and who at that time refused to take any more cases for the so-called Law and Order league. Attorneys Eymon and Thompson are confident that Mayor Seitz, when his decision is given, will acquit their client.

MEXICAN WAR VETERANS HERE

Aged Defenders of the Flag Hold Reunion.

ONLY A FEW ARE LEFT

Nearly All Are Past Eighty Years in Age.

Marion Citizens Do Their Utmost to Make the Stay in Marion a Most Pleasant One for the Old Soldiers Who are Visitors.

Marion has as her guests the veterans of the Mexican war.

And right proud is she too to entertain such an aggregation of the aged and venerable defenders of the flag in the war which was waged against the sister republic to the south and which resulted in such an overwhelming victory for American arms.

When one studies the age of the men who assembled in Marion today for the thirty-sixth annual reunion of the organization which is statewide and note the firmness of the step of those men who are nearly all past four score years in age and some of whom are past the four score and ten, it is little wonder that American arms were not defeated in a single battle in the war. The vitality of the men whose blood was again stirred by the strains of martial music is simply remarkable.

Quite early in the morning it became evident that there was something doing in the city. Veterans of three wars were seen on the streets, the boys of '61 and the boys of the Spanish-American war devoting the day to doing honor to the men who did battle in the earlier days. In this connection rather a strange thing might be noted. The register of the veterans of the Mexican war shows that in nearly every instance the men in attendance today, served also as veterans in the Civil war and there is every indication that if age had not barred them, they would have been enlisted with the late brush with Spain.

Cooper Post rooms in the basement of the court house were handsomely decorated in honor of the Mexican veterans and this was made headquarters for the day. Here the arrivals reported and were registered. Many touching scenes were enacted during the day, when old comrades, some of whom had not met since the days of strife, clasped hands and engaged promptly in animated conversation concerning the days when they slept in tents or lay all night in the trenches upon the field of battle.

At 11 o'clock the veterans were taken for an automobile ride throughout the city. Autos were furnished and the party was given a very pleasant trip, being shown all of the points of interest.

Just before the automobile trip, a drum corps composed of veterans of the civil war, gathered on the court house esplanade and enlisted things with a number of selections of martial music. The blood of the old soldiers was stirred by the file and drum and a quickening of the step was noted in every one.

At noon dinner was served in the armory of Co. D, 4th O. N. G.

The roster of the secretary of the association shows the following veterans of the Mexican war in attendance:

Dr. James Cutler, age 78, Richwood, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. E, 2nd U. S. I.; Civil war, captain Co. K, 1st O. V. cavalry.

Dr. D. W. Henderson, age 86, Marysville, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. E, 4th O. V. I.; Civil war, surgeon, 96th O. V. I.

Captain John A. Fisher, age 84, Granville, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. A, 2nd O. V. I.; Civil war, Co. D, 23rd O. V. I.

Daniel Darlington, age 83, Newark, Ohio, Mexican war, ranking sergeant Duncan's mounted riflemen; Civil war, 1st Maryland infantry.

Jacob Schoenlaub, Sr., age 80, Marion, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. B, 4th O. V. I.

George T. Barney, age 84, Elkhart, Indiana, Mexican war, Co. D, 5th O. V. I.; Civil war, 1st Michigan V. I.

Jackson Shade, age 80, Covington, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. G, 1st O. V. I.; Civil war, Co. G, 110th O. V. I.

Benjamin F. Jacobs, age 87, Parrot, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. C, 4th U. S. artillery; Civil war, first lieutenant Co. K, 44th O. V. I.

Conrad Gasche, age 85, Wauseon, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. K, 11th O. V. I.

William Mallin, age 82, Columbus, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. K, 2nd O. V. I.

William Bish, age 81, Ada, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. K, —; Civil war, Co. E, 189th O. V. I.

Captain F. A. Hardy, age 92, Piqua, Ohio, Mexican war, Co. I, 3rd O. V. I.; Civil war, Co. C, 94th O. V. I.

William B. Haines, age 83, DeGraffe, Ohio, Mexican war, captain Co. A, 1st E. mounted riflemen; Civil war, Co. I, 13th O. V. I.

The Ohio association today has as its guest Mr. George T. Barney, of Elkhart, Indiana, who is quite a prominent man in affairs in which the Mexican war veterans are interested. He is president of the Indiana State association and vice president of the National association.

Following the dinner which was served in the armory of Co. D, the old soldiers assembled again in the auditorium of Epworth M. E. church where the following program was carried out.

Fisher, of Grandville, vice-presidents; and Miss Elmore Fisher, secretary.

A Modern House.

In a few years a house not equipped with electricity will be as much out of date as we now consider one without a bath. The wonderful development of the electrical business has never been equalled in the world's history. During the past two years the cost of lighting with electricity has been reduced one-half. Who can say what the next two years will bring? If you are going to build a house either to rent, sell, or for your self do not fail to have it wired.

If you have no plans and specifications for your wiring we will make them for you free of charge.

VALUATIONS ARE BOOSTED

C. D. & M. Must Pay More In Taxes.

APPRAISEMENT IS COMPLETE

City Property is Kept too It self.

Total Increase in the Valuation on the Properties Situated in Marion and Marion County Totals $16,800.

County Auditor Charles L. Allen returned Tuesday afternoon from Columbus where he assisted in the appraisal of the C. D. & M. electric railway company's property, together with the city lines of Marion and Delaware. The result of the appraisal was an increase of $9,000 on the main line of the C. D. & M. and an increase of $7,800 on the city property of the company in Marion.

Mr. Allen refused to allow the appraisal of the Marion city lines together with the local power house as a part of the entire system the appraisal to be divided between the three counties. He succeeded in having the track from David street to the interurban station appraised as a part of the C. D. & M. lines, but the remainder is listed as Marion property.

The new appraisal increased the valuation on the main track of the C. D. & M. from $4,200 to $4,500; on power houses and money, the valuation remains at $1,000 per mile; on sidings $1,000 per mile and on rolling stock $800.

The Marion city property the main line was increased from $2,600 to $2,800 and rolling stock, $1,600.

By way of comparison it may be stated that the Delaware city lines were appraised as follows: City lines $2,300, rolling stock, $350.

There are 3.53 miles of street railway lines in Marion and in Marion county the C. D. & M. has 44.6 miles of track.
